STUDENTS' FEEDBACK ANALYSIS

ACADEMIC SESSION 2022-2023

Introduction: To improve different aspects of college like academic activities, college ambience and infrastructure, analyzing students' opinion through collecting feedback from them, is an annual phenomenon in the college. The feedback has been taken from students of all the departments on nine different dimensions to get a purview of students' observations on different aspects of the institution.

Section A covers the assessment of faculty performance in different departments of the college. Regularity, punctuality, course completion, communication, motivation, conceptual clarity, interaction outside class, complementing theory with practical example and overall performance of the department are the parameters in this section. In most the parameters the students have given excellent and good. Only in computer and IT skills the faculties still need some development.

In section B students have mentioned about some problems which are

- IT skill of faculties can be improved
- Laboratory facility and number of computer in science departments needs to be increased.

Section C and D assess the quality of central and departmental library facility in the college.
